

Chealsea Wierbonski

Keynote Speaker
Leadership and Business Coach
Product Leader at Google

Chealsea Wierbonski is a highly experienced keynote speaker, leadership and business coach with 20 years of experience in leadership, mentorship, and public speaking.

Drawing on three decades in tech, including 15 years leading product teams at Google, Chealsea brings real-world credibility to conversations about leadership, visibility, and pressure in demanding, high-pressure career environments.

As a first-generation college graduate and the daughter of a coal miner, she understands the internal drive to prove worth—even in rooms you’ve already earned your way into.

Her talks blend lived experience with science-backed insights on presence, stress, and self-trust delivered with warmth, clarity, and practical relevance for today’s workplace.

Chealsea helps high-performing professionals understand what happens internally during high-stakes moments so they can lead and communicate with clarity, confidence, and presence when it matters most.

Signature Talks

For high-performing professionals who want to stay clear-headed, speak up, and lead well when the stakes are high.

- You’re Not Seeing the Whole Picture: What 30 Years in Tech Taught Me About How Work Really Works
- Leading With Confidence and Impact: 5 Steps to Leading With Presence, Power, and Influence in a Time of Rapid Change
- Aligned Ambition: Vision, Growth, and the Courage to Want More

Key Takeaways

- A clear understanding of the hidden dynamics at work and how pressure impacts confidence, communication, and performance
- Language to recognize internal stress responses in real time and how to navigate them
- Practical mindset and presence shifts that can be applied immediately to real work scenarios
- Greater self-trust, visibility, and authority, without forcing confidence or waiting to feel ready

SPEAKING ENGAGEMENTS

TESTIMONIALS

Dr. Sharon Ryan

Philosophy Department Chair, West Virginia University

"Through her honest and powerful insights, Chealsea offered a practical toolkit that inspires confidence, authenticity, and growth."

Lisa DeFrank-Cole

Professor of Leadership, West Virginia University and Author

"Professional, gracious, and deeply motivating—Chealsea brings stories of grit and leadership that resonate and stay with the audience."

Chrissy Towle

Director, News Partnerships, Google

"Chealsea delivered an inspiring session with practical takeaways that can be applied immediately."

CONTACT DETAILS

 chealsea@chealseaw.com

 www.chealseaw.com

 +212.518.4971

