

Chealsea Wierbonski

KEYNOTE SPEAKER - WRITER - COACH

Chealsea is a Keynote Speaker, Writer, and Career Transformation Coach dedicated to helping ambitious women overcome self-doubt and make bold career moves—whether stepping into leadership, pivoting to a new path, or starting something entirely new.

With nearly 30 years of experience in tech, including 14 years leading product teams at Google, Chealsea has navigated male-dominated industries while carving out a fulfilling career. As a first-generation college graduate and the daughter of a coal miner, she understands the challenges of breaking barriers and the mindset shifts needed for true career transformation.

Through coaching, courses, and speaking engagements, Chealsea provides women with the strategies, confidence, and tools to rewrite their career stories, step into their potential, and create professional lives that truly align with their aspirations.
